

Just to be sure you know the state of telemarketing today:

I now get upwards of 4-5 telemarketing hang-up calls a day, the last one being as late as 8:30 pm... the 8:30pm call comes at least 3 days a week like clockwork.

I get at least 3 live telemarketing calls a week.

I get 1-2, pre-recorded telemarketing calls a week... my favorite being the computer generated "Please hold for an important call..."

We haven't bought anything from a telemarketer... ever... but still get a huge number of calls each week.

It is my wish that I get ZERO calls each week, so please do whatever you can to make that possible. I'm willing to opt-out or whatever it takes, but this is ridiculous!!
